

Leslie Black burst onto the scene when she starred in the #1 rated show, "Metro." Since then, she's been on a mission to continue reaching for the top and hasn't looked back since.

Raised as an Air Force brat, Black lived everywhere from the Philippines to Louisiana as a child. It is no wonder why this beauty has a talent for connecting with such a wide range of viewers.

Black has several years of training under her belt in a variety of skills, including method and comedic improv acting. She prides herself on wearing her heart on her sleeve and giving her all to each scene. Utilizing her ability to cry on cue, Black captivated audiences in Investigation Discovery's top crime series, "Murder Calls."

She can most recently be seen playing a heartbroken mother in TV One's new hit show "#Murder," and flexing her skills as a badass lady pirate in Sony Pictures' upcoming original TV movie, "Party Boat."
